Three Cuesta Students Earn Novy History Scholar Awards

Three Cuesta College students were honored with the Fredrick Novy History Scholar Award for their exemplary efforts and promise as history scholars.

Malia Dickinson, Andrew Caudill and Matthew Walker were nominated by their history instructors and honored with a certificate and a $300 scholarship each. Their names will also be displayed on a permanent plaque in the 6200 building on campus. Each recipient has plans to pursue a career in a history related field as a historic film editor, history teacher and history professor respectively.

The Fredrick Novy History Scholar Award was established in 1990 by Dr. Fredrick Novy. The award was developed to honor history students who demonstrated a hard work ethic, outstanding achievements in course work, exceptional research papers, commendable grades, and promise as a history scholar. In the past 18 years, 73 students have been honored with the distinction.
