

CERTIFICATION OF CONTINUED COMPLIANCE WITH ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Cuesta College has reviewed the eligibility requirements for accreditation and affirms its continued compliance with them. No changes have occurred which might affect Cuesta's standing; further information is provided in the appropriate standard sections.

Cuesta College continues to operate as an educational institution, with an educational mission that is adopted and published by its governing board. Cuesta College's president is Dr. Marie E. Rosenwasser, whose primary responsibility is to the institution. Faculty and staff support the college's mission and purpose; a student body numbering over 10,000 currently pursues educational objectives.

Educational programs and academic credit meet WASC/ACCJC standards, as well as the requirements of Title 5 in terms of quality and rigor; the general education component is consistent with statewide standards.

Qualified faculty serve the college's educational programs; Cuesta College provides appropriate student services and admission policies, as well as access to information and learning resources appropriate to the size of the institution to meet its mission.

Cuesta College has appropriate financial resources and is regularly audited; planning takes place at both the college and the district level and is evaluated and modified as changes require. Its catalog is published during even calendar years, with amendments published during odd years, and includes information concerning admission, student rights and responsibilities, requirements for programs, courses, and degrees, as well as costs, grievance procedures, etc.
